WilsonMail

We're running a private email server on Citadel software. To register an email account, open the webmail interface and click `New user? Register now` and enter a user name and password. Your email will be your user name (with non-alphabet characters replaced with an underscore `_`) ending in `@wilsons.life`.

Email accounts registered initially have low privileges and are only able to send emails to other wilsons.life users. To request general email use privileges, send an email to giw@wilsons.life.

Bookstack

This front web app is running Bookstack software. Bookstack provides an easy way to create simple webpages (i.e. books), and organize these in groups of pages (i.e. shelves). To request an account, send an email to giw@wilsons.life.
