

Biography

Nathan E. Jones serves as the Internet Evangelist at Lamb & Lion Ministries, reaching out to the nearly three billion-plus people accessible over the Internet with the Good News of Jesus Christ. He has served at the ministry since August 2007.

After graduating from Philadelphia Biblical University (now Cairn University) with a Bachelors in Bible, Nathan attended Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and later received his Masters of Management and Leadership at Liberty University. He is a life-long student of the Bible and an ordained minister.

Nathan is married to Heather Jones, who also serves at the ministry in the Media department. They have three teenage children who love the Lord.

Television & Media

Nathan co-hosts the ministry's weekly television program Christ in Prophecy with Dr. David Reagan. He also co-hosts the weekly podcast The Truth Will Set You Free along with Pastor Vic Batista.

Nathan can primarily be found growing and developing Lamb & Lion Ministries' Web Ministry at christinprophecy.org and evangelizing over the ministry's various social media, including The Christ in Prophecy Facebook Group. He answers all the Bible-related questions sent to the ministry from all over the world.

He also produces a webisode Q&A series called The Inbox, along with various Bible teaching DVDS.

Publications & Writing

Nathan authored the book The Mighty Angels of Revelation, co-authored the book 12 Faith Journeys of the Minor Prophets, and was a contributing author to the book Deceivers: Exposing Evil Seducers and Their Last-Days Deception and its sequel Discerners: Analyzing Converging Prophetic Signs for the End of Days. He also blogs prolifically on The Christ in Prophecy Journal and contributes articles to the ministry's Lampighter magazine.

Public Speaking

You can find Nathan speaking at conferences and churches throughout North America and overseas, as well as being interviewed by various national radio and podcasts programs.

Pastor Vic Batista was born in the Dominican Republic and raised in the Bronx, New York City. Soon after moving to Miami, Florida, Vic gave his life to the Lord and became an ordained minister with Calvary Chapel.

Vic graduated from Devry University with a degree in Computer Technology and since has worked weekdays in the healthcare technology field as a Biomedical Field Service Engineer while serving as a pastor/evangelist on weekends and a police department chaplain. He has pursued that bi-vocational career for 20 years, preaching in both English and Spanish as pastor of Calvary Chapel Aventura located in the Miami, Florida area.

In 2019, Vic moved to Daytona Beach where he continues to work in the healthcare technology field while preaching and teaching at every opportunity. Over the past 14 years, Pastor Vic has hosted several weekly television and radio programs that focus on Bible Prophecy, as well as other topics. He and Nathan Jones have for many years now been co-hosting the Internet radio program "The Truth Will Set You Free" which teaches on topics related to Bible prophecy. He assisted Nathan in the production of their book, The Mighty Angels of Revelation. Vic founded the Aventura University of Calvary Chapel, recognized in 2019 by the Florida Department of Education Commission for Independent Education, in order to offer online education in the field of Eschatology.

Vic has been married to his wife, Maureen, for 25 years. They have two grown daughters and a son in the Marines.

Vic is fluent in both English and Spanish and can teach and preach in both languages.

Position: Assistant Evangelist